REGULATIONS APPLYING TO THE REGISTRATION OF LITTERS PRODUCED
THROUGH ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION USING FROZEN SEMEN

These Regulations shall supplement the "Regulations for Record Keeping and Identification of Dogs."

Each person engaged in the collection, freezing, storage, shipping and insemination of frozen semen shall follow such practices and maintain such records as will preclude any possibility of error in identification of any individual dog or doubt as to the parentage of any dog or litter.

RECORDS:

To provide a source of reference for the registration of litters of purebred dogs produced by artificial insemination, using frozen semen, applications for which have been made, or may later be made, to the American Kennel Club, and to assure the accuracy of such applications, certain minimum records must be kept.

All required records shall be made immediately, when dog has been delivered for the purpose of semen collection, at time of shipment of frozen semen, and insemination of same; shall be kept on forms devoted to that exclusive purpose; and shall be consecutive, accurate and up-to-date. Such records shall be maintained for a period of no less than five years from the point in time when the last of the frozen semen from a given stud dog is used.

I RECORDS TO BE KEPT BY COLLECTOR:A. Dog Identification:

Breed
AKC registered name and number of stud dog
Sex, color, markings of stud dog (include tattoo, if any)
Color photographs of stud dog (full front and full side views)
Date of birth
AKC registered name and number of sire and dam
Name and address of owner of stud dog
(AKC suggests that collector also keep a health work-up of stud dog as part of stud dog's identification)

B. Collection of Semen:

Date on which stud dog was received
Owner's authorization of semen collection
Date semen collected, frozen and stored
Number of breeding units stored
Form of semen storage (Pellets, Ampules, Vials, Straws, etc.)
Container in which each breeding unit is stored shall be indelibly imprinted to show: Breed, AKC registration number of stud dog, Date semen collected

C. Disposition of Semen:

Identification of shipped semen
Number of breeding units shipped
Name and address of person to whom semen shipped
Authorization of semen owner for shipment
Date(s) semen shipped

D. Collector shall also maintain records of all transfers of ownership of stored semen. (See Section VI below re: transfer of ownership of semen.)

II RECORDS TO BE KEPT BY OWNERS OF STUD DOGS:

In addition to the records required to be kept by owners and breeders, as provided in AKC pamphlet "Regulations for Record Keeping and Identification of Dogs," owners of dogs from which semen has been collected, frozen and stored, shall include the following:

AKC registered name and number of stud dog
Date dog shipped to collector
Name and address of collector
Number of breeding units collected, frozen and in storage
Location of semen storage
Transfer of ownership of semen (see Section VI below)

III RECORDS TO BE KEPT BY OWNERS OF SEMEN OF STUD DOGS WHEN BREEDING HAS BEEN ARRANGED:

Identification of semen (Breed, AKC registered name and number of stud dog, date semen collected)
Number of breeding units authorized for shipment and insemination
Date of shipment
To whom semen shipped
AKC registered name and number of bitch to be inseminated
Name and address of owner of bitch

IV RECORDS TO BE KEPT BY BREEDERS:

In addition to the records required to be kept by owners and breeders, as provided in AKC's pamphlet "Regulations for Record Keeping and Identification of Dogs," owners (or lessees) of bitches inseminated shall include the following:

Name and address of veterinarian who handled insemination
AKC registered name and number of bitch inseminated
Date(s) of insemination
Identification of semen (Breed, AKC registered name and number of stud dog, date semen collected)

V NOTIFICATION TO AKC BY COLLECTOR:A. Collector:

Cheek swab DNA sample must be obtained by the collector, submitted with the notification of collection to AKC, and result in a DNA Profile and Number issued by AKC (unless an AKC DNA Profile is already on record). The AKC shall be immediately notified by collector of collection and freezing of canine semen. Such notification shall identify stud dog by its breed; AKC registered name and number; the number of breeding units collected; date stored; address of storage facility; name and address of owner of stud dog.

B. Collector/Semen Bank:

The AKC shall be immediately notified by the collector/semen bank whenever semen is shipped for intended use. Such notification shall include the identity of the stud dog by its breed; registered name and number; the number of breeding units shipped; the identification of such breeding units; the name and address of the person to whom the units were shipped; and the date of shipment.

VI TRANSFER OF OWNERSHIP OF SEMEN:

Records required to be kept by owners of dogs from which semen has been collected and stored, and records required to be kept by collector (if semen is held in storage) must also note transfers of ownership of semen. Such records to include:

Authorization of transfer
Number of breeding units transferred
Date of transfer
Name and address of new owner

The AKC shall be immediately notified of such transfer of ownership of frozen semen.

VII LOCATION OF STORED SEMEN:

In the event semen is stored at a facility other than the facility at which it was collected, frozen and initially stored—or—in the event all or part of the collected frozen semen is transferred to a new owner (see Sections II and VI above), the owner or new owner shall immediately notify AKC. Such notification shall include:

Identification of semen (Breed, AKC registered name and number of stud dog, date semen collected)
Number of breeding units relocated
Date transferred to new storage facility
Name and address of storage facility

VIII CERTIFICATION:

The AKC shall require such certifications from the semen owner, owner (or lessee) of bitch, and veterinarian who inseminated bitch, as shall be necessary to support an application for registration of a litter of dogs produced by the use of frozen semen.

IX INSPECTION:

The rules provide that the AKC or its duly authorized representatives shall have the right to inspect the records required to be kept and the practices required to be followed by these regulations and to examine any dog registered or to be registered with the AKC.

X PENALTIES:

The rules provide that the AKC may refuse to register any dog or litter or to record the transfer of any dog, for the sole reason that the application is not supported by the records required by these regulations. The rules also provide that the Board of Directors of the AKC may suspend from all privileges of the AKC any person who fails to observe the above regulations.
